

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz., pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and an efficient, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds nor much to be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the chronic, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, will lead to an untimely end, consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

Hammer Receives Fire Badge

Nick Hammer, the popular fire chief, was the recipient of a beautiful fire badge, given Monday evening at fire headquarters at the city hall by the members of the Lexington department. The medal is of gold, beautifully engraved, with the name of Mr. Hammer, the company, and the givers, thereon. The medal is a token of appreciation from his fire fighting assistants for the efforts Chief Hammer has put forth for the benefit of the Lexington fire department. The presentation speech was made by George C. Schawe and Mayor Thomas Walton. All the members of the department, several councilmen and thirty visitors were present. After the formal ceremonies, cigars were passed around. Mr. Walk, of Pueblo, Col., who was present, gave a little impromptu talk, in which he reviewed the rapid progress and growth of the department as seen by him during his frequent visits here in the last ten years. He mentioned the fact that it was but a short time ago that the wagons were manned by men and now the fire fighting is conducted along the most modern lines. Mr. Hammer is extremely proud of his medal and is taking pains to exhibit it freely.

Death of Mrs. Mary O'Malley.

Mrs. Mary O'Malley died Sunday morning at 11:35 at her home on west Highland avenue.

Death was due to pneumonia and came after an illness of two weeks. For several days Mrs. O'Malley had been sinking and her final passing away was not unexpected.

Mrs. O'Malley was born in Westport, County Mayo, Ireland, February 2nd, 1844. With her parents she came to this country in 1864. They came almost directly to Lexington and this has been her home ever since. Fifty years ago last August she was married to Andrew O'Malley, who, up to the time of his death four years ago, was one of the most prominent citizens of Lexington. She was a life-long member of the Catholic church and always took an active part in church affairs. One of her sons she reared to enter the priesthood and he is now a well-known and highly respected Jesuit missionary. She was a noble and righteous woman and an exemplary mother. She was respected, loved and cherished by all who knew her.

The deceased was the mother of ten children, six of whom survive, as follows: Mrs. T. A. O'Connor, of Kansas City; Mrs. P. J. Carroll, of Kansas City; Mrs. T. J. Gallivan, of Sedalia; Miss Rose O'Malley, of Lexington; Rev. T. A. O'Malley, S. J.; and M. J. O'Malley, of Kansas City. She leaves also an adopted son, Byron O'Malley, of this city.

The funeral was held from the Catholic church Tuesday morning. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

Don't Get a Divorce

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr. King's New Life Pills would have prevented it. They cure constipation, causing bad breath and liver trouble the ill-temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer chills. 25c at Crenshaw & Young.

Linwood Lawn Sold

W. V. Curtis has sold to M. T. Jones his fine Linwood Lawn farm, containing 212½ acres of land 2 miles east of Lexington to Walter B. Waddell for C. N. Comstock of St. Joseph, Mo., consideration $25,000. This is one of the finest improved farms in the state of Missouri.

Nine Below

The mercury took another drop Tuesday and actually went to nine below. There was little wind, however, and the cold was not so severe as it has been with a higher temperature.

STAUNCH FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA.

Grandmothers and Grandfathers Who Believe in Pe-ru-na.

"I CAN recommend Peru-na as a good medicine for chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels. I have been troubled with it severely for over a year, and also a cough.

"Now my cough is all gone, and all the distressing symptoms of catarrh of the stomach and bowels have disappeared. 'I will recommend it to all as a rare remedy.'—Mrs. F. E. Little, Toledo, Ill.

"I HAD catarrh of the stomach, bowels and lower internal organs. Had a great deal of pain in my right hip, which felt like rheumatism. Also, pain in my internal organs. The water was highly colored, my back was weak, was constipated, and very restless.

"I commenced to take Peru-na according to directions, and began to improve. I have taken ten bottles of Peru-na and think I am cured."—Mr. W. C. Hemphill, Louisville, Miss.

MRS. H. G. GREEN and family, of Lewis Creek, Ind., write: "We cannot express to you our thanks for what Peru-na has done for mother.

"When she began your medicine she was not able to be up all day, but now she is helping with the work and at present has gone on a visit. Her health is improved in general. No discharges, good appetite. Sleeps well and looks well."

"BY following your instructions and taking your Peru-na and Manalig I am cured of catarrh.

"I had catarrh for twelve years and quite a bad cough so I could not sleep nights. I do not have any cough now. If I feel anything in the throat I take a swallow of Peru-na and I am all right."—Mr. W. D. Smith, Sr., 2400 Forest St., Port Huron, Mich.

WOMAN SAYS "LET MEN SMOKE."

Philadelphia Physician Astounds Sisters at Club Meeting.

"Let men smoke. Good tobacco, used moderately, is a sedative for the nerves. You can no more stop men smoking than you can stop them breathing."

This opinion, uttered by Dr. Rachel Skidelsky, was the bomb which created consternation at the meeting of the Woman's club in the home of Mrs. A. B. Nesbitt, the other day, says the Philadelphia North American.

When she had finished half a dozen women wanted the floor simultaneously. There was a long discussion, in which "my husband" was frequently quoted as an authority.

The temerous statement of Dr. Skidelsky was made in reply to a remark made by Dr. Harriet P. Westbrook, who was a speaker at the last meeting of the National Municipal league. She was shocked and embarrassed, she said, because nearly all the men were smoking.

"This," she said, "was not only foolish, but most unpleasant to me, as I could not get rid of the smell of tobacco in my clothes for a week."

Interpreting a Gift.

Last Christmas a Philadelphia man sent as a present to his son and daughter-in-law one of the new gold eagles, and with it the following letter:

"The woman on the face of this coin is for you, Clarence, because men usually like good-looking women. The eagle on the reverse, with the feathers on its legs, is for Lottie, because women are supposed to like birds and feathers.

"The 'E pluribus unum,' which you know is translated 'One of many,' means that of the many of them you would like to have this is the only one you get.

"The 13 stars, being an unlucky number, indicate the hard luck many of us have in our efforts to gather in the quantity of these coins we really have need for, but then the 46 stars around the rim tell you that by working like 46 days in the week you can probably accumulate enough to see you through."

Bird Snaring in Connecticut. Reports from hunters who have made trips to different points where game usually can be found indicate that snaring has prevailed this season to a greater extent than ever before. Evidence is abundant in any locality frequented by game, the telltale snare, not infrequently still holding its prey, being a dumb but sure witness that lawbreakers are numerous and are almost thoughtless in their boldness.

Some idea of the magnitude of this law-breaking work in this state may be gained from the fact that one man alone had shipped some 300 birds to another state within a few weeks after the close season was on—Hartford

OTHERWISE THEY'D BE EXTINCT.

Logical Certainty That There Were Microbes in the Ark.

John W. Gates was talking about the accident that befell the Mauretania recently.

"When that propeller broke," he said, "the screw seemed to run away with the great ship. She was racked as though a host of giants with sledges were beating on her sides. We all felt for a moment as lost—as lost as those creatures whom the ark left behind."

Mr. Gates smiled. "Speaking of the ark," he said, "I saw a little boy at play with his Noah's ark the other day. I watched him put aboard all the people, all the painted animals, and then I saw him place carefully in a sheltered spot two tiny splinters of wood.

"What are they, my son?" I asked. "Them's microbes," said he. "It had never occurred to me before," Mr. Gates ended, "but there must, of course, have been a pair of microbes in the ark."

Another Touch. "Maria," said Mr. Stubb, as he looked through his waistcoat, "where are those two ten-dollar notes I had?"

"Why, I took them, John," responded Mrs. Stubb, innocently. "Didn't you say I could have anything I found under a dollar?"

"Yes, but—"

"Well, they were both under a dollar. The dollar was on top."

Down the Old Road. Silas—Took Mandy out driving last night and tried to kiss her.

Cyrus—And wouldn't she stand for it?

Silas—Yes, but the blamed old boss wouldn't. He ran away.

Seeing and Believing. "What must you do in order to become a psychic researcher?"

"I don't know exactly," answered the hard-headed person. "But as near as I can make out the requirements, you must be able to believe everything you see and also to see everything you may feel like believing."

Quarrel in the Woods. "You're lots more of a coward than I am," declared the squirrel.

"Maybe, but I'm not nearly so much of a tail-bearer," answered the rabbit, wiggling its nose insultingly.

WORK DOES IT. "Contentment is not a good thing," said Mrs. Wilkins Freeman, at a dinner in New York. "Not contentment, but dissatisfaction, is what causes progress in the world."

She smiled. "If we look for the contented man," she said, "we will usually find him asleep when he ought to be at

Opie Read

Big, fat, corpulent. The true character of the man reflecting from every sentence—a character as variable as the winds. Sometimes dramatic, flashes of brilliancy here and there, sometimes tender and thoughtful—a big heart within a big man. Sometimes coarse. Often the gross of his life radiated, as it were, from the embers of an unsatisfactory past. Uncouth and unkempt. Awkward to an extreme, Opie Read. Monday evening he made his first appearance in Lexington and those present who had read his books were probably the ones most entertained.

The weather was inauspicious. Opie was cold, his nose showed that, but he was not long in warming up. His presence alone is entertaining. A big man to look at and when in motion he attracts. His lecture is filled with anecdotes and stories entertainingly told. He makes no pretense of being an orator nor does he impress one as such. He does however hold attention. Sometimes and somehow the brain of the man scintillates brilliantly. "First one thing, then another," an appropriate name for his lecture.

He ended with a story of a Kentucky feud and a broken oath. Here he displayed considerable dramatic power and held the closest attention of his audience.

Mrs. T. C. Corbin Dead.

A telegram was received here Saturday by George P. Venable announcing the death in Nara Visa, N. M., of his daughter, Mrs. T. C. Corbin. Mrs. Corbin had been ill for a year and the first of last September her husband took her to New Mexico with the hope that her health would be benefited by the change. Mr. Venable and her relatives thought that she was getting better until the telegram came apprising them of her death.

Mrs. Minnie K. Corbin was born in Lexington January 24, 1880. Her maiden name was Minnie K. Venable. She spent all her life in and around this city. On November 5, 1901, she married T. C. Corbin of Dover. Three children were born of this union, all of whom survive: Mildred, Clark and George Lewis. Mrs. Corbin is also survived by her husband, who was with her at the time of her death; her father, George P. Venable of this city; one sister, Mrs. Ed Haekker; and two brothers, Clark and George, Jr.

The death of Mrs. Corbin is a great shock to her many friends in this city and county. As a child, a girl, and then a young lady, she was always popular among all her acquaintances. Personally attractive, refined and unselfish, she held the esteem and admiration of all who knew her. As a wife and mother she was the embodiment of devotion and tenderness and her death is a sad blow indeed to her husband and children.

The entire family, and especially the stricken father and husband, have the sympathy of the community. The funeral was held from the Venable home Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The services were conducted by Rev. O. M. Rickman of the M. E. church, assisted by Rev. T. M. Cobb.

Death of Mrs. Annie Homer Aufderheide

A. R. Homer Sunday received a message telling of the death of his sister, Mrs. Annie Aufderheide in St. Louis. Mrs. Aufderheide was the wife of A. G. Aufderheide, and was formerly Miss Annie Homer. She was the daughter of the late Charles and Annie Homer, and was born and raised in this city. Mrs. Aufderheide was 44 years of age. She is survived by her husband and three brothers: A. R. Homer, of this city; Joe, of Los Angeles; and Emil, of St. Louis. The burial took place in St. Louis. A. R. Homer went to St. Louis Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. L. Golden and infant son, J. L. Jr., returned to Kansas City Monday morning after a visit with relatives in this city.

No arrangements for the funeral will be made until the arrival of T. A. O'Malley, who left San Francisco Friday night.

I have found California to be an ideal winter resort. Thousands of other persons have made the same discovery. Ideal for those who wish to be secure against winter's chilling blasts, its snows, its discomforts.

These flowers bloom, birds sing and fruits ripen at a season when here the reverse is true.

For persons desiring to play golf, fish, swim, go boating, automobileing, or indulge in other outdoor sports during the winter, or girls or retain health, California's the place.

I've traveled over the Santa Fe and know a great deal about it. I always recommend it to my friends who want the best. That shows my confidence in Santa Fe service.

I know California and the Grand Canyon of Arizona like a book, and am content to give full information about the trip, thither, and what to do after reaching there.

If you have any friends planning a trip to California, send me their names and addresses, and I'll send you 75c copies of postcard literature about California and the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

How to Cure Liver Trouble

Keep Your Bowels Regular and Your Stomach Sweet

People sometimes imagine when they have liver trouble or are bilious that the main thing to do is to take physic. Taking pills and keeping your bowels regular are two very different matters. The use of a violent cathartic does not mean the cure of constipation or the establishment of regular movements. A physic is an emergency remedy, but never a bowel treatment. If the bowels do not move regularly there is a reason deeper seated than the mere clogging up that is removed by a dose of salts or pills.

When that drowsy, tired feeling, with the coated tongue, the dull head pain, the sour stomach, the sallow complexion, constipated bowels and touches of fever come on it is time to take a medicine that will act on the bowels gently and mildly, cleansing and strengthening them, stir up the liver and aid the stomach in digesting the food.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does this every time. Take a few doses and see how quickly the drowsy feeling leaves, regular bowel movements come back, with a good appetite and perfect digestion, and you soon feel like your old self. It does not gripe nor pain, it acts smoothly, mildly and is very pleasant to take. Wm. Hinchman, Mesick, Mich., says: "I was troubled with indigestion and liver trouble. I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with fine results. It is a perfect laxative and I now feel as strong and well as formerly."

Wm. Block, Niagara, Ill., says: "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy I ever used for liver complaint or constipation."

Mrs. R. H. Brown, Addition, Ind. Ter., was troubled with torpid liver and constipation. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gave her prompt relief. All druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle.
